

DASH TV ARTIFACT

WARNING: Use only in case of extreme emergency, such as being trapped inside of a series of diabolical clever TV shows on a Saturday afternoon.

At last! You've found me!

On your journey, I trust that you discovered all the answers to the mysteries of DASH TV. You'll definitely need those to escape, but first things first.

To power up your remote, you must first familiarize yourself with the networks of circuitry that you see before you.

Only then will you know how to use the answers from the various TV shows to complete your escape.

Good luck!
