

THE SECOND TASK: POTIONS AND SABOTAGE

For your second task, you must prove yourself by brewing a mystery potion and identifying it. You are warned that mistakes can result in catastrophic effects. Originally, you were given five concoctions purchased from Diagon Alley that you were supposed to mix into your cauldron. Unfortunately, you've discovered that someone has tampered with your concoctions and magically dissolved them into their base ingredients. So you'll have to recreate your concoctions by properly combining the correct ingredients. Only then will you be able to chain your ingredients together, create your potion, and move forward by identifying it!
