

HOUSE ELVES HELP

While preparing for your next task, a house elf enters your room. However, he seems very dizzy, and as he spirals toward you, he trips and the tray of tiles he was carrying flies in the air and lands in a mess of pieces. Upon lifting himself up, the house elf apologizes profusely for his clumsiness, and goes on to explain that he had something that would help you for your next task, but it seems to have been lost in the mess of tiles. Can you discover the heart of the tiles and make sense of it all?
