

EARS

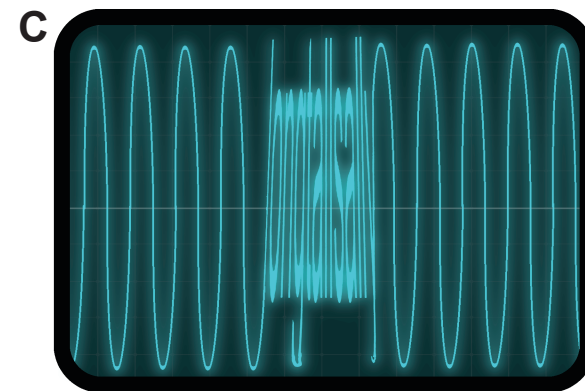

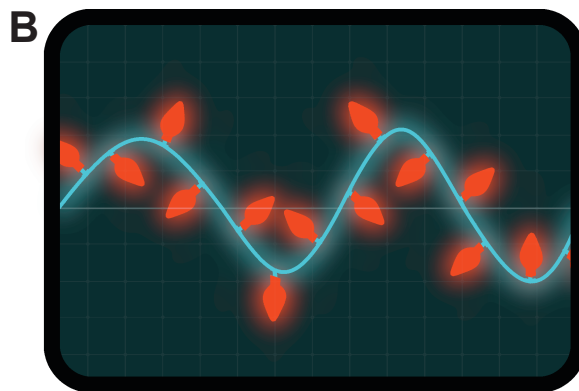

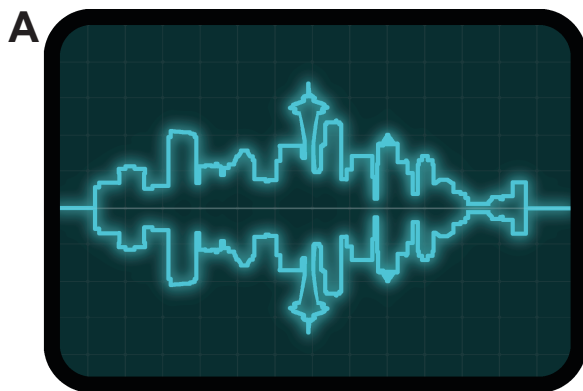

Puzzle 8

SOLUTION

Page 1 of 2

Something's gone wrong with the ears, and you'll need to make sense of all this gibberish to figure out how to fix them. If only you could understand these wonky display modes on your oscilloscope!

1. LIZ AND TOY EARHARDT Listen to your heart: K, heartbeat
2. BURR THE PLAY SOFT CRUNCH MEW SICK Birthplace of grunge music: A, Seattle skyline
3. CHIN GULL ALL DEW EH Jingle all the way: B, Christmas lights
4. SIR FIN YOU ESSAY Surfin' USA: I, ocean wave
5. HOOEY AGAIN KNACK ALL Who you gonna call? F, proton pack stream
6. HAYSEED EASY AC/DC: D, graph representing alternating and direct current
7. ISLE I COUGH HE ISLE LIKED HE WANT YOLK COMMAND CHUMP WHIFF MAY I like coffee, I like tea, won't you come and jump with me?
8. NUMB BROTH ICKY SONOGRAM P AND O Number of keys on a grand piano: E, 88
9. HELL PINE HEED SAMBA DEE Help! I need somebody: L, Morse code for SOS G, skipping rope
10. LEE TELLER ITCH HARD Little Richard: C, Long Tall Sally in tilt-to-read words
11. THIS SOW END OFF SIGH LENS The Sound of Silence: H, flatline
12. WEEVIL RUG QUEUE We Will Rock You: J, image of Queen chess piece

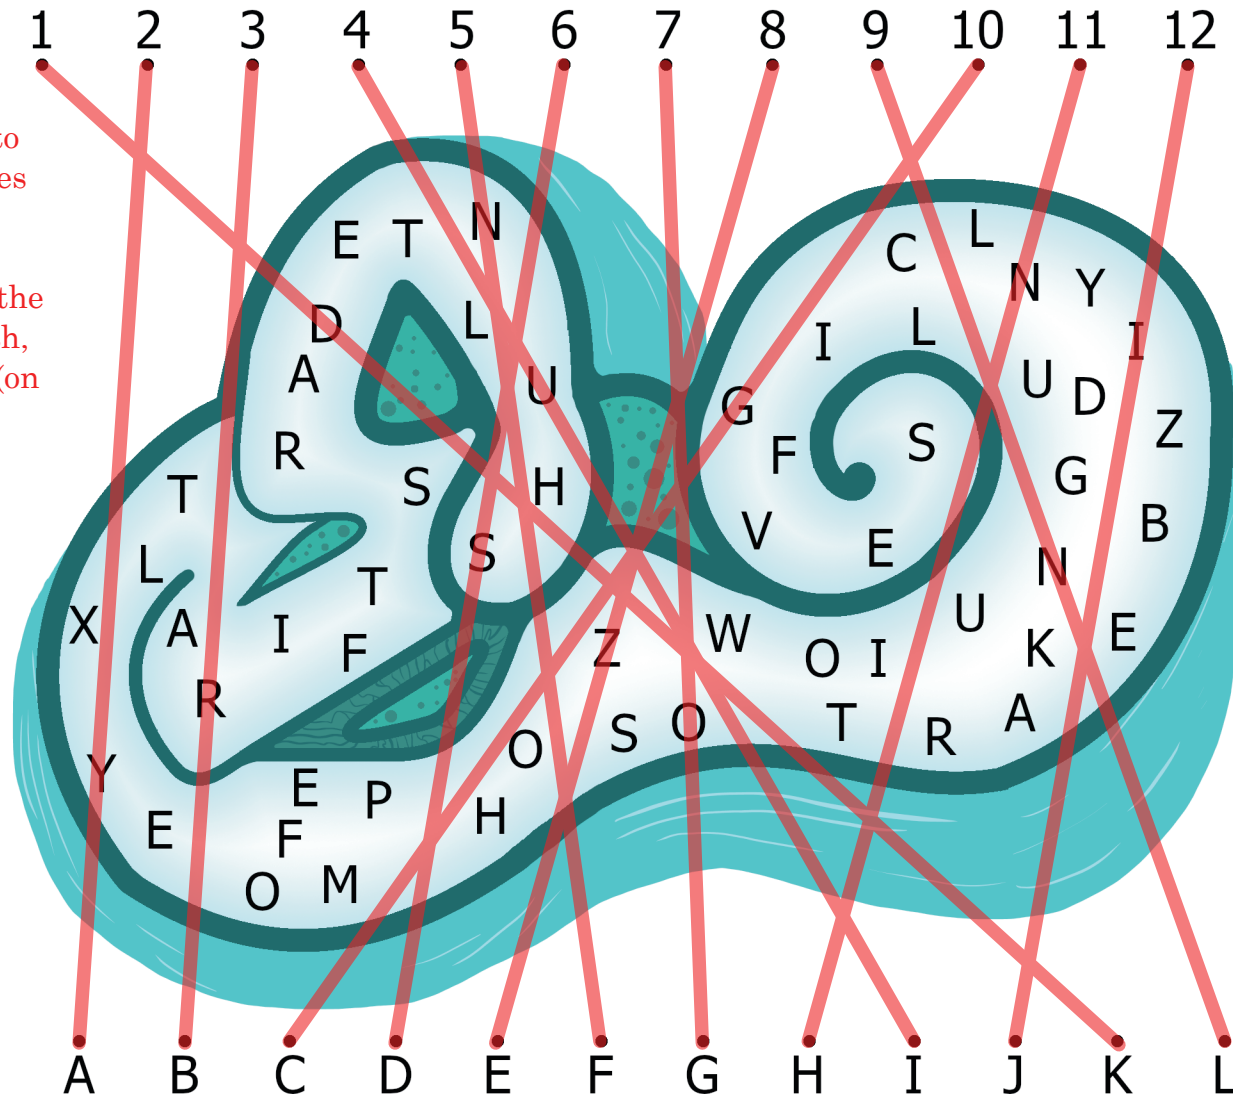

8. Ears

SOLUTION

Page 2 of 2

Matching numbers to letters results in lines crossing some of the letters. When these letters are taken in the order of the labyrinth, starting from the S (on line 6D), you get SUNDRY ZONING. This is a mad gab/mondegreen for the answer:
SOUND REASONING

The Osseous Labyrinth
A bony structure of the inner ear.